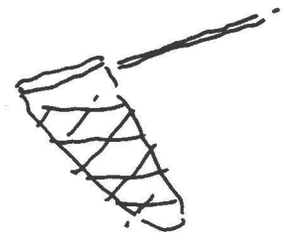
EXERCISE 4: When I was a pearl-fisher

List a few situations, from both your personal and professional life, when you have acted like a pearl-fisher. Examples: When the guests arrived late for our dinner party; when I started talking to the person sitting next to me on the plane; when my children picked the first rose of the year – without the stem; when our garden party was rained out.



Times when I was a pearl-fisher:

In the future, try to be even more aware of situations which encourage the pearl-fisher in you. Make finding pearls in ordinary, everyday situations a habit. In this way, you are creating a rich and eventful life.
